Your IDP for Year 1 should be completed with the faculty mentor assigned to you. The goals of the first IDP are to get your training off to a good start. Filling out this Year 1 form will help you to begin formulating a plan for your training. By sharing this plan with your faculty mentor at your initial IDP meeting, you will obtain their feedback. At the close of the process, you will have generated an action plan that will guide your training as you progress in the program.

The CoS IDP portal contains a list of steps for successfully completing an IDP. Refer to those steps which are abbreviated in the box below.

IDP Steps Reminder

1 Step back and self-assess!

2 Set your first meeting with your faculty mentor.

3 Lead the discussion.

4 Obtain your advisor's feedback on your IDP.

5 Complete the "Action Plan" (page 1.4) and submit a copy to the Graduate Studies Office.

"This process sparks much needed conversations between trainees and their mentors regarding career goals, skills and interests. This kind of communication is imperative."

One of the most important parts of your PhD training is to develop a skill set transferrable beyond graduation. Evaluate your strengths and weaknesses below relative to the where you think a student in the first year of their graduate studies should be, checking the boxes for skills that you would like to target in the coming year. Ask your advisor how s/he agrees or disagrees with this assessment. An honest self-assessment and discussion will help you set goals for your training.
